Section entitled "Employment", Sub-Section entitled "Leaves of Absence and Impact on Research"

- Applicants must describe any special considerations that have had an effect on their performance or productivity. They must include any considerations that may have resulted in delays in disseminating their research results, such as health problems, family responsibilities, disabilities or other circumstances (for example, the time necessary to complete a monograph, file a patent, or commercialize an industrial process or product). Applicants must explain any gaps in the chronology of their experience.
- If there are none, leave this section blank.

Collection of Self-Identification Data

CIHR (in coordination with NSERC and SSHRC) are asking all applicants to self-identify with information on age, gender, Indigenous identity, disability and visible minority status.

A harmonized self-identification data collection process allows the granting agencies to monitor the equity performance of its programs and design new measures that achieve greater equity, diversity and inclusion in the research enterprise.

Completing the new self-identification form will be mandatory for applicants and co-applicants but for each category there is an option "I prefer not to answer."
